IPD ENGINE BEARINGS

IPD has a long history and reputation in the marketplace for superior and innovative quality engine bearings. From IPD's innovative grooved connecting rod bearings for 3400 series engines to reduce cavitation, to IPD's many years of engineering and manufacturing experience, to IPD's relentless pursuit of quality, performance and value...IPD parts are the preferred choice for professionals in the marketplace. Some areas that help IPD to stand alone in the aftermarket engine bearing include:

- Precise specifications for materials, plating, hardness, thickness, and dimensions
- Strict quality controls for testing and inspection of critical dimensions and specifications (including plating adhesion and bearing thickness) using proper tools to ensure integrity of measurements
- Main and rod bearings based on OE designs to ensure quality and interchangeability

IPD engine bearings set the standard in the marketplace!
